MMK Group’s sales structure on key markets

Average sales prices on the domestic market for HRC in Q3 2019 were slightly down q-o-q.

The volume of shipments of HVA products for Q3 2019 remained quite high supported by strong demand amid high capacity utilisation rates.

The strong demand on the domestic market allowed the Company to increase domestic shipments compared to Q2 2019. As a result, the share of domestic shipments in total structure increased to 91%.
In Q3 2019, domestic shipments grew due to seasonal growth in business activity and the completed reconstruction of Mill 2500.

In Q3 2019, export sales declined q-o-q, mainly due to a more favourable pricing environment on the domestic market.

At the same time, MMK’s flexibility in terms of export sales allowed the Company to reallocate sales volumes to markets that provide the maximum profit margins.

In Q3 2019, revenue of MMK Group amounted to USD 2,009 mln, up 0.5% q-o-q.

This growth was due to an increase in sales volumes and a reorientation of sales to the domestic market where margins are higher, amid the correction in metal prices.

The decline in revenue of steel segment (Turkey) for Q3 2019 was due to a decrease in the volume of sales of finished products by 4.3% q-o-q amid the negative correction in prices on the Turkish market.

Revenue of the coal segment for Q3 2019 was up 22.9% q-o-q due to a 29.2% increase in sales volumes for coking coal concentrate amid lower prices.
The average selling price, expressed in US dollars, for Q3 2019 decreased by 1.5% q-o-q and amounted to USD 616 per tonne. Meanwhile, EBITDA per tonne of steel products grew by 5.4%, due in part to the implementation of the programme to boost operational efficiency.

EBITDA of the Russian steel segment in Q3 2019 amounted to USD 518 mln, up 7.7% q-o-q. This was due to the increase in sales volumes of commercial products amid continued high demand in the company’s key markets.

EBITDA of the coal segment grew by 16.7% q-o-q, to USD 14 mln. This was mainly due to the company’s extraction and processing of its own coking coal.
Key factors which affected revenue in Q3 2019 were an increase in sales volumes amid negative pricing trends in the global steel market.

The cost of sales for a tonne of slab in Q3 2019 declined by USD 7, or 2.2% q-o-q. Key factor for this decline was lower share of pellets in the blast furnace charge and lower scrap share in the steel production process. The correction in prices for coal concentrate and metal scrap had a positive effect.

Net profit for Q3 2019 amounted to USD 271 mln, nearly flat q-o-q.
In Q3 2019, CAPEX amounted to USD 188 mln. This 23.6% decline q-o-q is in line with the investment programme schedule.

In 9M 2019, MMK Group’s capital expenditure amounted to USD 592 mln, down 9.8% y-o-y.

CAPEX for 2019 as a whole will be in line with the investment programme, with major investment projects being implemented at a faster pace than envisioned in the initial plan.
As of the end of Q3 2019, the working capital/revenue ratio was 14.5%

Sustainable generation of positive free cash flow (FCF) in Q3 2019, mln USD

MMK Group’s debt as of the end of Q3 2019 amounted to USD 866 mln.

The debt share in foreign currency (USD + EUR) as of 30.09.2019 was 100%.

The cash volume on the Group’s balance (USD 936 mln) fully covers the Group’s debt.

The debt repayment schedule does not include any large one-time payments.
In Q3 2019, the share of blast-furnace raw materials in the structure of material costs rose in connection with rising prices for iron ore and increasing production of pig iron, amid higher demand for metal products and the blast furnace No. 7 reaching full capacity utilisation following the planned maintenance in Q2 2019.

The share of coal concentrate decreased mainly due to higher share of MMK Coal in shipments amid lower coal prices.
Dividends & comments on the market situation

Dividends

On 30 October 2019, the Board of Directors recommended that the Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders approve the payment of dividends for Q3 2019 of RUB 1.650 per share (100% of FCF for the period).

The Board of Directors recommended that the Q3 2019 dividend record date be set to close of business on 15 January 2020.

Comments on market situation

Currently, the Company’s management is seeing a decline in demand on exports markets and a seasonal weakening in consumption of metal on the domestic market amid the correction in steel prices, reflecting the unfavourable conditions on the global market. Together, these factors should put pressure on MMK Group’s performance in Q4 2019.

Despite the negative trends, the Company expects that while the price premium on the domestic market compared to exports will decline, it will remain at a sufficiently high level. This, together with a decline in prices for key raw materials and high capacity utilisation of high-margin production units, should have a positive effect on the Company’s results.
